The University Of Illinois

THE UNIVERSITY OF ILLINOIS is a distinguished center of higher learning which benefits citizens of the entire state through teaching, research and service.

It was opened March 2, 1868, under provisions of the Land Grant College Act, signed by Abraham Lincoln, which gave public lands to the states to make higher education available to many rather than a favored few.

Since its founding with three faculty members and 50 students in a second hand building on the prairie at Urbana, it has grown to an institution with three campuses, and an enrollment of nearly 40,000 on its campuses and in classes, short courses and correspondence work throughout the state.

Much as the University has grown in size, it has grown more in concept and activities. The kind of university Illinois represents today was unknown when it opened. There were distinguished faculties then, but large student bodies were inconceivable.

There were no gigantic laboratories such as Illinois has today, in which scholars add to the world's store of knowledge. During its history the University has pioneered in the study of reinforced concrete, I-beams, railway and highway problems, bridge design, materials testing, ceramics, improved methods of feeding beef cattle, control of animal diseases, soybeans, crop improvements, farm accounting, home heating and ventilating, among others.

Urbana-Champaign is the site of the main campus and administrative center of the University. Here are 16 of the colleges and schools which offer undergraduate, professional and advanced work.

They are the College of Agriculture, Graduate School of Business Administration, College of Commerce and Business Administration, College of Education, College of Engineering, Graduate College, College of Journalism and Communications, College of Law, College of Liberal Arts and Sciences, Graduate School of Library Science, School of Life Sciences, School of Music, College of Physical Education, School of Social Work, University High School, and the College of Veterinary Medicine.

Also here are institutes, bureaus, experiment stations, and headquarters for extension and other state-wide services. Enrollment at Urbana-Champaign last year (1964-65 fall semester) was 27,020.

Nearby are the 771-acre Airport, the 1,775-acre Robert Allerton Park — the University's conference center 25 miles southwest of Urbana-Champaign — and the Hott Memorial Center for Continuing Education at Monticello, Illinois, near the park.

The Urbana-Champaign campus covers 535 acres with 1,813 acres of agricultural experiment fields adjoining.

The campus for the health sciences — medicine, dentistry, pharmacy, nursing, and the hospitals including 34 outpatient clinics, is in Chicago and forms part of one of the world's greatest medical centers.

Also located in Chicago is a new undergraduate campus at Chicago Circle comprising 106 acres. By 1966 this will be a full four-year commuter campus offering degree work in engineering, architecture and art, education and physical education. Enrollment at its opening in February 1965 was 5500. This will expand to 20,000 within another five years.

The University Library contains more than 5 million items and is largest of any state university, third among American university libraries, and fifth largest in the nation.

The University operates its own radio and television stations, carrying mostly educational programs and providing a wide range of cultural activities, including concerts, exhibits, lectures and films.

President of the University since 1955 is Dr. David Dodds Henry, an eminent educator, who also has held top administrative positions at Wayne University in Detroit, Michigan and New York University.

Stars Among The Illini

GRABOWSKI, JIM: SR., 21, 211, 6-2. Brilliant sophomore and junior seasons provide Illinois' Jim Grabowski with impressive credentials for the rating of the nation's outstanding college fullback. The Chicago senior made one first-team All-

JIM GRABOWSKI
No. 31—Fullback, Co-Captain

was named to the first team All-American Academic team. Grabowski led the conference in rushing for the season, and ranked second nationally to Wake Forest's Brian Piccolo. Grabowski serves with Don Hansen as co-captain of Illinois' 1965 team.

HANSEN, DON: SR., 21, 201, 6-2. Hansen moves out from the shadow of two-year All-American teammate and fellow linebacker Dick Butkus this season and should receive more recognition of his ability. Opponents' scouting reports have pointed out that Illinois has had two great linebackers, and not just one, during the last two seasons. Hansen is a rock-hard 6-2, 201-pounder who has the arms, shoulders and legs, but not the waist and hips, of a 225-pounder. He's a sure tackler, expert play diagnostician, and has enough speed to cover pass receivers well. Hansen entered Illinois after a great career as a fullback at Reitz High School in Evansville, Ind., where he played on two undefeated teams, including one which was unscored upon.

ACKS, RON: SR., 20, 196, 6-2. Versatility is the keynote of Acks, who, as a safety, will be playing his third position in three seasons this fall. Ron entered Illinois after an outstanding career as a quarterback at Carbondale High School, where he won all-state honors and was so highly regarded that his uniform number was retired. As an Illini sophomore, he got a late start because of an injury in pre-season practice, and found himself number-three signal caller behind Mike Taliaferro and Fred Custardo. He was used primarily for kick returns, but got into the 1964 Rose Bowl game at quarterback in the fourth quarter and gave Washington a tough defensive problem with his running from the option play.

CUSTARDO, FRED: SR., 21, 197, 6-0. A rugged senior, Custardo has demonstrated in two previous seasons that he's a potent offensive weapon, passing, running, and kicking. As a sophomore, Fred alternated at quarterback with Mike Taliaferro on Illinois' Big Ten and Rose Bowl championship team. Last year, he became number-one Illini signal caller and turned in an impressive job, completing 86 of 159 passes for 1,012 yards and an excellent .547 percentage.

EICKMAN, GARY: SR., 21, 220, 6-3. Became a defensive standout for Illini last season. Turned in tremendous performance in Illinois' 16-0 victory over Michigan State in 1964 finale, in which Spartans netted only 66 yards rushing. Missed spring practice this year because of a minor back operation. Eickman began his Illini career as a guard, but was moved to tackle early in his sophomore year.

more, but injured his shoulder in the third week of the season and failed to letter.

KEE, DICK: SR., 21, 175, 5-9. Only returning member of last year's outstanding trio of defensive backs. His speed and cutting ability offset his lack of size in defending against passes. A two-letter winner, Kee has carried the ball only three times for four yards during his varsity career. Nickname is "Mosco," derived from his actual name Moscovitz.

PRICE, SAM: SR., 22, 209, 5-11. One of the Big Ten's biggest halfbacks, Price has been a regular since he joined the Illini varsity, although he will face stiff competition for the job this fall. As a sophomore, he gained 381 yards, for a 3.9 average, including 55 yards in 10 attempts as Illinois downed Washington in the 1964 Rose Bowl.

The College of Education

ESTABLISHED in 1907, the College of Education at Ohio State University is involved in the professional preparation of teachers and other educational workers in administration, psychology, service and research.

Dean Donald P. Cottrell

It also provides for the education of artists in the fields of fine arts and music, the preparation of personnel in psychology and occupational therapy and the conduct of research in education and allied fields.

Headed by Dean Donald P. Cottrell, the college during the 1964-65 academic year awarded 1,217 bachelor of science in education degrees, 71 bachelor of fine arts degrees, 12 bachelor of music degrees, and 16 bachelor of science in occupational therapy degrees.

Action by Ohio State's Board of Trustees last July created within the College of Education a new School of Education which combined the former department of education, Bureau of Educational Research and Service, and the Center for School Experimentation and University School in one administrative unit.

Dr. John A. Ramseyer, former professor in the Center for Educational Administration, was appointed director of the school, which was organized to focus university resources on four major educational goals.

Goals of the school are (1) to prepare personnel for professional teaching and leadership in a variety of educational institutions (2) to contribute to the understanding of education as a body of knowledge (3) to contribute to the development of institutional organizations and service systems which facilitate teaching and learning, and (4) to provide leadership in establishing cooperative relationships for developing and effecting planned change in public schools.

Four operating divisions of the school are the division of teacher education, division for the study of education, division of organization and special services, and the development division.

In addition to the regular schedule of education courses, the college annually conducts a number of workshops, conferences and other special events during the summer quarter for teachers, administrators and other professional workers who wish to do intensive work on problems of special interest.

"Across the Field" is 50 Years Old Today

*"Fight that team across the field,
Show them Ohio's here.*

*Set the earth reverberating
With a mighty cheer.*

Hit them hard and see how they fall.

Never let that team get the ball.

Hail! hail! the gang's all here,

So let's beat that Illini now."

WILLIAM A. DOUGHERTY

He composed "Across the Field" in October, 1915.

WILLIAM ALDREW DOUGHERTY, once joked that he wrote Ohio State University's stirring marching song, "Across the Field," because he was turned down as accompanist for the Men's Glee Club and had to do something to gain recognition.

However, even without this wonderful contribution to Ohio State, Dougherty has compiled a record of scholarship, loyalty and devotion to his Alma Mater that stands well at the top.

Today, 50 years after composing "Across the Field," Dougherty, now a Columbus resident, will play his famous number at half-time of this Illinois game.

As a junior in the College of Arts in 1915, Dougherty wrote both the words and music and "Across the Field" was played publicly for the first time at the Ohio State-Illinois game on old Ohio Field. The game ended in a 3-3 tie.

As a student, Dougherty was manager of the football team, member of the Men's Glee Club and the Student Council. He was tapped by Bucket and Dipper and Sphinx, men's honoraries, and was honored with the Order of the Coif in recognition of his top scholarship while a law student.

He always has kept in touch with his university and has worked consistently for its betterment since he left the campus in 1920. He has served in many capacities including the presidency of the Alumni Association from 1947 to 1949. He has been active in both the Cleveland and New York Alumni Clubs.

In the business world Dougherty had a successful private law practice and was chairman of the board of the Consolidated Natural Gas Co., before his retirement and subsequent return to Columbus.

It is common knowledge now that whenever there is a big job to be done for the university, the man to call on is Bill Dougherty. He no longer seeks recognition for the work he does.

Old Rivals Play for Illibuck

THE HISTORY of the Illibuck—the wooden turtle trophy for which University of Illinois and Ohio State University football teams compete each year—began back in 1925, when the Illini and Buckeye junior men's honorary societies decided that it would be a good idea to inaugurate a trophy to commemorate their historic but friendly rivalry in the annual game.

A live turtle—dubbed "Illibuck" to combine both the Illini and Buckeye names—was first chosen as a suitable trophy, partly because it was supposed that the marine reptile would display suitable longevity. The trophy's originators envisioned the same turtle 50 years hence, hoary but hearty, with the scores of 50 historic Illini-Buckeye games carved on his back.

After the 1925 game, Illibuck's first, the trophy returned to Illinois along with the famous "Red" Grange, who had played his last game in Columbus that year. Illinois had won 14-9.

However, after the wear and tear of a few years traveling back and forth between games in a suitcase and spending the rest of the year in the basement of a fraternity house, Illibuck quietly expired. He was replaced, more pessimistically, with a wooden replica—a faithful reproduction of its live predecessor in his prime. Since the untimely end of Illibuck I, the teams have competed for a succession of wooden replicas, of which the present is the fourth.

Although Illibuck has gone back and forth between Champaign and Columbus many times through the years, he has spent 28 of these years at Ohio State and only 11 at Illinois. In fact, there was one period when the Bucks retained the trophy for 11 years straight, winning all games between 1935 and 1945 inclusive.

The ceremony of transferring Illibuck to his new owner traditionally occurs during the half-time of the annual game. Members of Bucket and Dipper, the Ohio State junior men's honorary, and Sachem, the Illinois honorary (the latter draped in their Indian blankets), parade out on the field and solemnly pass the peace pipe around to participants. Illibuck is then given over to the winner of the previous year's game, or retained, if the team has won twice in a row.

In case of a tie, as last occurred in 1963 (20-20), Illibuck remains in possession of the previous year's winner. Ohio State won last year, 26 to 0.

PENNY EDWARDS—"MISS TIPARILLO"

What does she mean "cigars...cigarettes...Tiparillos"?

You'll be hearing that chant more and more—now that Tiparillos have arrived. And arrived they have. In all the right places. With all the right people.

The new Tiparillo has a neat, trim shape. It looks young and debonair. And its pearly, pliable tip pays more than lip service to your smoking pleasure.

And never before such mildness! The most careful blending of choicest imported tobaccos has seen to that. So, too, has the exclusive, veinless Ultra Cigar Wrapper* that burns so evenly and smoothly it insures complete mildness.

You can even see the mildness. The surprisingly whiter ash is visible evidence. Smoker's proof. Here is flavor you don't have to inhale to enjoy.

"Cigars . . . cigarettes . . . ?" Who knows, maybe someday it will be just "Tiparillos!"

Why don't you ask for one today?

IN '66 ... in a Rocket Action Olds!*

442 Swinging new kind of sports car excitement!

400-cubic-inch V-8, 4-barrel carb, twin pipes: Buckle up and have yourself a ball! This is the 350-hp 4-4-2. With heavy-duty suspension, built to K.O. the roughest roads. Front and rear stabilizers to take the "bend" out of curves, the bind out of corners. And under it all—pavement-biting red-line tires! But the swinging-est thing about Olds 4-4-2 is its surprisingly modest price! LOOK TO OLDS FOR THE NEW!

In 1963, we called Riviera "America's bid for a great new international classic car."

If imitation is any sign, we were pretty good prophets.

There are a lot of rough copies of Riviera on the road these days. (Even some of the cars made across the seas are straining to look like our Riviera.) And it flatters us. It seems our prediction has come true. Riviera is America's great international classic car. And it also seems to us that you would greatly prefer to own an original, not a counterfeit. Mainly because if you do settle for one of the imitations, you'll be nagged by doubts. "Wouldn't Riviera's Super Turbine transmission do a better job of easing me through that traffic jam?" "Would Riviera's plush bucket seats and squishy carpets and eye-soothing instrument panel make me feel more relaxed after a long trip?" "Would Riviera's incredible suspension and steering do a better job on that tight corner?" There is only one way to forestall these bothersome thoughts. Ask yourself first—"Wouldn't I really rather have America's one and only international classic car?"

Wouldn't you really rather have a Buick?

How do athletes handle athlete's foot?

They follow their trainers' advice and use Desenex® for prevention and treatment

It's excellent protection against itching, cracking and irritation of Athlete's Foot. Helps prevent spreading, too. No wonder Desenex is the Athlete's Foot treatment most widely used by college football trainers.

We know you don't have a trainer to keep you on your toes. But that's no reason to suffer from Athlete's Foot. Start using Desenex yourself. Avoid Athlete's Foot problems with Desenex Powder or new, cooling Desenex Aerosol—and for treatment use Desenex Ointment. Desenex is guaranteed to work or your money back.

The perfect lie

A golfing story with a front yard moral

A perfect lie is a lovely thing. The ball sits right up there, just begging to be smacked. And it's not entirely a question of skill or luck. More than anything, a lie depends upon the turf.

If it's too soft, the ball sinks. If it's too long or bunchy, the ball hides. That's why golf people are intrigued with WINDSOR. The new grass mutation develops sturdier roots and a thicker, more regular top. It promises a perfect lie anywhere from tee to green, from one side of the fairway to the other.

If WINDSOR can do all this for a golf course, think what it can do for a lawn. It loves heat. It can maintain its deeper green color with less moisture. (It took this year's drouth in stride.) And because of its density and strong lateral growth, weeds have less chance.

WINDSOR was discovered, developed and patented by Scotts, the same people who make Turf Builder® — the only company that devotes itself exclusively to making better lawn products.

Facts-of-life about Windsor for the technically minded

WINDSOR is a mutant of Poa pratensis. It reproduces asexually by apomixis, with progeny true-to-type. Chromosome count is double that of common bluegrass and greater than that of any other variety. Plant patent No. 2364.

GIVE IT EVERY- THING YOU'VE GOT!

That's what wins football games. That's what takes a man all the way to the top, whatever his field of endeavor. If you've got what it takes to be that kind of man . . . if you have the chance to take ROTC, make what you've got count. Go for an Army commission. That way, come commencement, you'll have two good things going for you: your college degree, and the gold bars that mark you a leader of men . . . tested, trained, trusted.

CARMEN OHIO

*Oh! come let's sing Ohio's praise
And songs to Alma Mater raise;
While our hearts rebounding thrill
With joy which death alone can still
Summer's heat or winter's cold,
The seasons pass, the years will roll:
Time and change will surely show
How firm thy friendship — OHIO*

THE OHIO STATE UNIVERSITY MARCHING BAND

BUCKEYE FESTIVAL OF THE ARTS

Situation and Music

THE BLOCK I is a salute to the University of Illinois and is followed by the Diamond Ohio Monogram and Carmen Ohio. THE BUCKEYE FANFARE announces the Buckeye Festival of the Arts.

LITERATURE AND POETRY are represented by the intrigue and romance of India with the Song of India and a snake charmer.

PAINTING is depicted with a replica of the famous Great Gate of Kiev by the artist Victor A. Hartmann. This painting was musically pictured by Modest Mussorgsky.

MUSICAL COMPOSITION AND PERFORMANCE were highlighted by George Gershwin in his stirring Porgy and Bess.

ARCHITECTURE AND DESIGN can be visualized in the different patterns seen as the band drills to The Wonderful World of Color.

DANCE is an art which includes classical ballet and the contemporary teenage dances. Can the ballerina who normally performs to Tschaikovsky's Waltz of the Flowers dance the Frug to Hang on Sloopy?

COMPOSITION is vital to all artistic accomplishments and especially music. The Ohio State University Marching Band is pleased to recognize the 50th anniversary of the writing of Fight The Team Across The Field.

Buckeye Football Managers and Supervisor

DURING football season and for several weeks prior to the opening game, the busiest people on campus are the football managers.

Among their many duties are 1, keeping the substitution chart; 2, cutting football films; 3, delivering and picking up films at Port Columbus; 4, checking equipment for practice; 5, keeping time of players during the game; 6, maintaining the injury chart and 7, keeping receipted expense accounts for games both home and away.

Defensive line coach Lyl Clark works with the managers in a supervisory capacity.

When space is available, playing time is maintained in a radio booth in the press box; otherwise the work is done by the managers on the sidelines.

HALF TIME-ANYTIME-MAKE IT MILK!

Busy football weekends call for extra energy. And that calls for a refreshing glass of milk. Milk is nature's vitality drink... that helps you stay in peak condition, sees you through the busiest fall days.

Half time; snacktime, anytime—when you take a break, make it milk. Keep up with the fun with milk's vitality!
